Benson's Corn Proposal Gets Close Study

Some Key Senators OK Idea. Others Eye Possible Repercussion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Key Senators said today they are willing to consider proposals by Secretary of Agriculture Benson to lower government price supports and remove controls from corn.

Sen. Ellender (D-La.), chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, said he had urged "some of the proposals that the secretary has made because corn has been the favored crop under past programs."

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.), senior GOP farm committeeman, said he "would like to see corn cut from controls, as are other feed grains. But supporters of wheat, cotton and other basic crops may be fearful that they are next, and oppose this."

Sen. Mundt (R-S.D.), who led futile drives for emergency corn legislation earlier this session, opposed Benson's suggestion for corn price supports to zero to 90 percent of parity or even 60 to 90 percent.

"IF WE ARE going to put a ceiling on supports, then they should range from 60 to 140 percent of parity," Mundt said.

Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to prices charged them.

All three senators said there is little chance for any major farm legislation at this session of Congress.

Corn, like other crops now classed by Congress as basic, must be supported between 75 and 90 percent of parity now. The others are wheat, cotton, rice and peanuts. Tobacco, also classed as a basic crop, qualifies for a 90 percent support rate under separate legislation.

Because most corn is fed to hogs, cattle and other livestock, corn farmers have been reluctant to accept the planting and marketing controls and penalties that apply to other basic crops.

Benson, in a report asked by Congress, proposed to take corn out of this group remove allocations and lower its supports, effective with the 1959 crop.

This would put it under the same treatment as oats, barley, grain sorghums and a number of other livestock feed grain crops which compete with it.

Benson said his proposal eventually should bring a better balance between feed grain and livestock production and supplies. He conceded that prices probably would be lower but said income and profits might be higher.

In any event, Benson said it would free many farmers from government controls and at the same time reduce the multibillion dollar government outlays on farm programs.

Baseball Boss Taking Whole Town to Game

MOUNT STERLING (AP) — The president of the Pittsburgh Pirates baseball club is going to take the people of his hometown to a Pirates' baseball game.

John W. Galbreath, Columbus financier and president of the Pirates, has invited the entire population of Mount Sterling to be his guests as the Pirates meet St. Louis in a doubleheader in Pittsburgh Sunday.

And what's more, just about the whole town has accepted. At last count, more than 900 persons in this Madison County town of some 1,200 people plan to go.

Twenty-five big buses have been chartered by Galbreath to transport this guests. He's providing the transportation plus tickets to the game. The guests will furnish their own box lunches.

A union church service will be held in the town square just prior to departure time at 6 a. m.

Galbreath lived his early life in Mount Sterling and attended high school here.

Ground Broken for NCR Plant

Bulldozer and huge earth-mover break ground for new National Cash Register Co. plant here. Present plant on other side of the equipment. (Record-Herald photo)

Facilities Here Being Expanded

Construction Work May Require Year

Construction of another building for the National Cash Register Co. plant in Washington C. H. was started Wednesday by The Maxon Construction Co. of Dayton.

There was no silver spade, no fanfare and no white-collared officialdom, there was only the huge bulldozer and a small group of curious at the ground-breaking for the expansion program that will more than double the size of the present NCR facilities here.

The plant should be completed in about a year, Joseph E. Peters, manager of the Washington C. H. plant said.

"I wasn't expecting work to start quite this soon," Peters said, pointing out that bids had been let only a week ago by NCR's home office in Dayton and Lorenz and Williams, Dayton architects. He said he felt the Maxon Co. moved "very quickly" once the bids were let.

Plans call for a new 550 feet long and 250 feet wide just north of the present NCR plant on S. Fayette St. — on the area commonly known as the NCR baseball field.

Dimensions indicate the new plant will be about the same width as the present plant and nearly a third longer. Cost of construction was not announced.

The more-than-doubled facilities will provide a "substantial" increase in employment, Stanley C. Allyn, NCR president, has said.

NCR'S PLANT here converts bulk paper into various-sized rolls for use in cash registers, accounting machines and adding machines and also produces other business supply items.

The front of the building will be constructed of stone and masonry, the sides of brick and steel sash. The structure will be one story tall except for a 50-foot area at the front where a second story will house offices.

As a part of the project, the present plant will be remodeled to conform with the new structure's design. Remodeling will add an additional 6,500 feet of floor space to it.

Total floor space in the two plants together will be about 240,500 feet.

Truck loading facilities and a railroad spur will be installed at the new structure. Parking facilities will be provided for 265 cars.

The old and new buildings will be connected by a tunnel.

Erected as a defense plant just prior to World War II, the present plant was acquired by NCR as a supply manufacturing plant following the war. During the war precision parts for war planes were made in the plant by the Aeronautical Products, Inc.

Last October NCR took a five-year lease on 42,000 square feet of space in the former Washington Candy Co. building, 133 S. Main St., which is being used as a stock room for some supplies.

Dynamite Stolen At Road Project

WARREN (AP) — One hundred sticks of dynamite were reported stolen Tuesday from a highway construction project on Ohio 82 near Ohio 46.

William Duff, assistant general manager of the D. W. Winkelman Construction Co., said the 40 percent strength dynamite in two boxes was taken from a storage shed.

Final Testimony Due in Race Trial

Minister Describes Beating He Took

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Federal attorneys were calling the last key witnesses today in their effort to prove that 15 segregationists conspired to keep Negro students out of a previously all-white school in Clinton, Tenn.

"Proof is developing very nicely," U. S. Dist. Atty. John C. Crawford Jr. said Tuesday.

He had already put one of his big guns on the witness stand. The Rev. Paul Turner, a Baptist minister, described how he was beaten so badly his blood spilled over a parking automobile after he accompanied six Negro students to the school last Dec. 4.

Further details of that episode, possibly implicating persons yet unnamed, are still to come.

Other witnesses will fill in the story of the events leading up to the anti-integration violence in Clinton last fall.

ON TRIAL ARE 14 Tennesseans and Northern segregationist John Kasper, their alleged leader. The government accuses all 15 of "acting in concert" to prevent Negro students from attending the school. It charges they knowingly violated a federal injunction against such interference.

An all-white jury is hearing the case, now in its second week. Legal experts believe the outcome may have important bearing on other civil rights cases.

In a low, composed voice, Turner described how he went to the Negro section of Clinton last Dec. 4 and escorted the Negro pupils to school. He said he had determined to see them safely to school.

"I didn't offer them protection," he testified. "I merely offered to walk with them as a witness of Christianity."

The minister said that when he first appeared near the school, a crowd there shouted, "Nigger lover!" He said one of the defendants, Clyde Cook, 35, a fireman, came up to him and said, "Preacher, what business have you got coming up here?"

The clergyman quoted Alonzo Bullock, one of the defendants who is a carpenter and itinerant preacher, as saying, "If a lot of these nigger lovers would keep their nose out of things that aren't their business things would be all right."

HE SAID HE walked the Negro students to the school through "heckling," saw them safely inside and came out.

The beating occurred after that. Defense lawyers battled strenuously to keep this part of the story away from the jury.

They argued that, once Turner left the school grounds, he was beyond the scope of the federal injunction against interference. One accused him, rather than the 15, of being the instigator of the troubles.

U. S. Dist. Judge Robert L. Taylor heard all the arguments, then overruled defense objections.

Next Kewanee Oil Well To Be Miami Trace Rd.

The second test well of the Kewanee Oil Co. in Fayette County will be drilled on Mrs. Edgar Wilson's farm on the Miami Trace Rd., a half-mile north of the Route 62 intersection in Concord Twp., it was learned Wednesday by the Record-Herald.

This well will be near the west side of Miami Trace Rd., about a fourth of a mile from Rattlesnake Creek.

It will be within a mile of the place where an 1,800-foot well drilled for oil and gas on the east bank of Rattlesnake Creek and within a few yards of Route 62, some 45 to 50 years ago. A trace of gas and some oil were found there at that time, but not in paying quantities.

A survey has been made and all preliminary steps taken for locating the outfit. Under present plans, the drilling rig will be moved to the new location within a week.

Since last week, when granite was struck at 4,706 feet and electrical logging of the well was completed, the drilling outfit has been idle. Members of the crew returned to their homes in Michigan for a few days.

It is expected the drilling rig will be moved to the new location either Thursday or Friday.

Lie Detector Expert Is To Test Confession

DELAND, Fla. (AP) — A lie detector expert is en route here from California to test Donald J. Wedler's confession to a crime similar to the 1954 slaying of Mrs. Samuel Sheppard in Cleveland.

Sheriff Rodney Thursby wired approval for himself and the county jail prisoner after he was contacted by the Court of Last Resort from Hollywood, Calif., for permission to conduct the tests.

The call was from Herman Lew, a representative of the non-profit organization headed by Erie Stanley Gardner, mystery writer.

The group, consisting of nine nationally known criminologists, offered to send Alex Gregory, a lie detector expert to check the statement made by Wedler Monday.

Authorities here and in Cleveland are skeptical of Wedler's statement and say there were discrepancies between his account and the Sheppard facts.

Wedler said he was ransacking a bedroom in a Cleveland home in early July 1954 when a woman stirred and he hit her two or three times with an iron pipe, ran into a man on the stairs and also hit him on his way out of the house.

Cleveland authorities say Mrs. Sheppard was hit 35 times, her room was not ransacked and Sheppard, her husband who is serving life for her killing, claimed he grappled with an intruder inside and outside the house and was knocked out twice.

Sheppard described the man as large and with dark hair, Wedler is 5 foot 11 and has blond hair.

Meanwhile, Cleveland police are awaiting a complete transcription of the Wedler confession, being provided by Thursby.

After talking with Volusia County Sheriff Rodney Thursby Tuesday, however, they are waiting for a copy of Wedler's statement and "other information" Thursby airmailed to them.

Thursby said several things in the information "might be beneficial to the people up in Ohio, facts not released to the newspapers." He said Dr. Stephen Sheppard, brother of the convicted man, telephoned Florida for details.

"I related to him the same information which was released to the press," Sheriff Thursby said.

In Cleveland, Dr. Stephen Sheppard said he will go to Deland Friday to talk to Wedler.

He said Fred Garmone, one of Dr. Samuel Sheppard's defense attorneys during his trial here, also will make the trip.

The Bay Village osteopath said William J. Corrigan, who was chief defense attorney, told him he considered the confession of Wedler "important enough" to warrant the trip.

Dr. Sheppard said he had talked with Sheriff Thursby and told the sheriff he "would be glad to come down to help out in any way."

He said the sheriff told him there was nothing he could do but that there was no objection to his making the journey.

Salt Lake City Counts Fallout

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Radioactive fallout from Monday's atomic explosion in Nevada soared to a new high of 7,090 micro-microcuries of beta radiation Tuesday.

The generally considered safety level over a 24-hour period is 1,000 micro-microcuries.

The Utah Health Department, which obtained the readings from air samples here, said the fallout could be considered safe because of the short period of time. By 1:30 p. m. the reading had dropped to 3,000 and continued downward.

Judge Case Scores Convict's Lawyer

Judge John P. Case Tuesday fired a double-barreled verbal blast at the attorney for a Washington C. H. man now serving a one to 20 year sentence in the Ohio Penitentiary when he overruled his motion requesting permission to change his plea of guilty to not guilty.

He not only overruled the motion, and the memorandum in support of it, stricken from the files.

Judge Case then referred the whole case to the grievance committee of the Ohio Bar Assn. for

Foreign Aid Bill Vote Near

House Ballot Slated Today on Big Fund

WASHINGTON (AP) — House voting on foreign aid begins today with Eisenhower supporters expressing confidence they can beat further moves to cut deeply into the overseas program.

The Foreign Affairs Committee recommended a ceiling of $3,242,333,002, about $600 million below what President Eisenhower asked and $375 million less than the Senate approved for the new fiscal year.

A motion by Rep. Selden (D-Ala.) to knock out the long-term feature of a new economic development loan fund provided the main threat to the authorization bill. The Senate has approved the three-year plan Eisenhower proposed. Selden is seeking to cut it to one year.

Both House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) and Minority Leader Martin (R-Mass.) urged passage of the measure without substantial change.

A MOVE TO TIE onto the aid bill a ban on foreign trials of GIs lost headway Tuesday when Rep. Bow (R-Ohio), chief architect of the proposal, announced he himself would not offer the amendment.

Bow told the House he believes only a watered-down version of his proposal would be ruled germane, or in order, on the aid authorization bill. He said he prefers to have consideration of his proposal as a separate bill.

As approved by the Foreign Affairs Committee, the foreign aid bill would permit use of $500 million a year for the next three years for a new loan for projects designed to promote economic development overseas.

Foreign aid officials say the long-range authority is essential to allow sounder planning for the projects.

Freight Train Is Wrecked South of Here

Between 23 and 29 cars of a southbound Baltimore and Ohio Railroad freight train piled up like jackstraws about 1 p. m. Wednesday near the Fairview Rd. crossing about nine miles south of Washington C. H.

The cause of the wreck was undetermined half an hour later. Employees in the freight office here said they knew none of the details.

Harold Wise, the yardmaster in Washington C. H., said the train left here at 12:30 p. m. with an assortment of 45 loaded and seven empty cars. Several of them were tank cars filled with gasoline, Wise said, but added he had not had time to check how many.

The engineer of the double-header Diesel train was brought to Washington C. H. by Ray Warner, whose farm is near the crossing. Warner said he did not know his name. He also said the engineer had given no indication of what the cause might have been. Wise said the conductor was Clarence Shultz.

Warner said some of the box cars appeared to have been split open in the pile-up, but that he saw no evidence of any gasoline on the ground near any of the tank cars.

Use of Troops Seen Doubtful

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today he can not imagine any circumstances which would induce him to try to enforce school desegregation through use of troops.

Eisenhower stuck by his statement of Tuesday night that he wants four objectives met in any civil rights bill on which the Senate finally acts.

In the statement the President said he wants enforcement, without jury trial, of voting rights and similar enforcement of "other" civil rights.

He mentioned establishment of a civil rights investigating commission and the addition of a civil rights division in the Justice Department.

A reporter pressed Eisenhower on the question whether he favors permitting the attorney general on his own motion to go into court to enforce school integration.

No, the President replied, when it is stated that way, without some request from local authorities for action.

Ahead of Eisenhower's discussion of civil rights, Republican senators held a closed-door strategy session to plan for the all-out fight now underway.

EISENHOWER'S statement was issued by the White House within minutes after the Senate voted 71-18 to take up the legislation for debate and action.

But Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) said the Southern opposition he is leading "were prepared to expend the greatest effort ever made in history to prevent passage of this bill in its present form."

The Dixie forces already have drawn support outside their own ranks, from Democrats and Republicans alike, to delete or modify key features of the bill.

Body of Boy, 2, Found on Mountain

BRIDGEPORT, Calif. (AP) — The body of little David Allen Scott was brought to this mountain community late Tuesday after the youngster, dead of exposure and exhaustion, was found at the 8,500-foot level of Eagles Peak.

The boy, who would have been three next Monday, strayed Saturday from the Sierra campsite of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scott of San Diego.

The body, clad only in a T-shirt, red, white and blue socks and one shoe, was found among boulders on the steep slope. He had climbed an incredible 3,000 feet higher than the camp, losing his other little red canvas shoe and his trousers along the way.

Wilson-Zhukov Talk 'Might Prove Useful'

Recent Red Shakeup Seen as Caused by Shift in Fundamentals

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today a meeting of Russia's Marshal Zhukov and Secretary of Defense Wilson might prove useful.

Eisenhower made the comment at a news conference which ranged into foreign affairs, but also dealt heavily with prime domestic subjects.

The President's suggestion that a Zhukov-Wilson meeting might be worthwhile stemmed from a request for comment on the recent shakeup of the Kremlin top command.

On that point, Eisenhower said in his opinion the shakeup resulted from fundamental changes within the Soviet government.

Eisenhower recalled that he and Zhukov, now Soviet defense minister, became quite well acquainted at the end of World War II. They were both in Berlin at the time.

THE PRESIDENT went on to say that he and Zhukov at that time cooperated very closely, and that a Zhukov-Wilson meeting at this time might prove profitable by bringing together defense ministers of the two countries.

The President also discussed these topics:

Atomic stockpile—As Secretary of State Dulles did Tuesday, Eisenhower said this country is considering the possibility of putting a stockpile of atomic weapons at the disposal of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

A reporter suggested that such a program might be illogical in the light of current disarmament talks. Eisenhower disagreed, saying NATO was created to help our allies defend themselves, that the means of doing so should be made available to them.

Manpower—The President also said there is no connection between the disarmament talks and Tuesday's Pentagon announcement that U. S. armed forces will be cut by 100,000 men by the end of this year.

Discussing the projected manpower reduction, Eisenhower said both he and Wilson believe the United States at present is a little stronger in manpower than is necessary.

Treaties — Discussing demands in Congress for ending status of forces treaties, requiring foreign trials for American servicemen in some instances, Eisenhower made it emphatically clear he is against any such move.

The status of forces treaties are absolutely essential, he said, adding that without such alliances we would be compelled to bring home American troops stationed abroad.

Eisenhower also said that he believes the case of Army Specialist 3c William S. Girard has been whipped up all out of proportion to its importance. Girard is charged with firing a shell casing which killed a Japanese woman.

House Ballot Slated Today on Big Fund

WASHINGTON (AP) — House voting on foreign aid begins today with Eisenhower supporters expressing confidence they can beat further moves to cut deeply into the overseas program.

The Foreign Affairs Committee recommended a ceiling of $2,242,333,002, about $600 million below what President Eisenhower asked and $375 million less than the Senate approved for the new fiscal year.

A motion by Rep. Selden (D-La.) to knock out the long-term feature of a new economic development loan fund provided the main threat to the authorization bill. The Senate has approved the three-year plan Eisenhower proposed. Selden is seeking to cut it to one year.

Both House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) and Minority Leader Martin (R-Mass.) urged passage of the measure without substantial change.

A MOVE TO TIE onto the aid bill a ban on foreign trials of GIs lost headway Tuesday when Rep. Bow (R-Ohio), chief architect of the proposal, announced he himself would not offer the amendment.

Bow told the House he believes only a watered-down version of his proposal would be ruled germane, or in order, on the aid authorization bill. He said he prefers to have consideration of his proposal as a separate bill.

As approved by the Foreign Affairs Committee, the foreign aid bill would permit use of $500 million a year for the next three years for a new loan for projects designed to promote economic development overseas.

Foreign aid officials say the long-range authority is essential to allow sounder planning for the projects.

Dynamite Stolen At Road Project

WARREN (AP) — One hundred sticks of dynamite were reported stolen Tuesday from a highway construction project on Ohio 82 near Ohio 46.

William Dwif, assistant general manager of the D. W. Winkelman Construction Co., said the 40 per cent strength dynamite in two boxes was taken from a storage shed.

Body of Boy, 2, Found on Mountain

BRIDGEPORT, Calif. (AP) — The body of little David Allen Scott was brought to this mountain community late Tuesday after the youngster, dead of exposure and exhaustion, was found at the 8,500-foot level of Eagles Peak.

The boy, who would have been three next Monday, strayed Saturday from the Sierra campsite of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scott of San Diego.

The body, clad only in a T-shirt, red, white and blue socks and one shoe, was found among boulders on the steep slope. He had climbed an incredible 3,900 feet higher than the camp, losing his other little red canvas shoe and his trousers along the way.

Freight Train Is Wrecked South of Here

Between 23 and 29 cars of a southbound Baltimore and Ohio Railroad freight train piled up like jackstraws about 1 p. m. Wednesday near the Fairview Rd. crossing about nine miles south of Washington C. H.

The cause of the wreck was undetermined half an hour later. Employees in the freight office here said they knew none of the details.

Harold Wise, the yardmaster in Washington C. H., said the train left here at 12:30 p. m. with an assortment of 45 loaded and seven empty cars. Several of them were tank cars filled with gasoline, Wise said, but added he had not had time to check how many.

The engineer of the double-header Diesel train was brought to Washington C. H. by Ray Warner, whose farm is near the crossing. Warner said he did not know his name. He also said the engineer had given no indication of what the cause might have been. Wise said the conductor was Clarence Shultz.

Warner said some of the box cars appeared to have been split open in the pile-up, but that he saw no evidence of any gasoline on the ground near any of the tank cars.

Plans call for a new 550 feet long and 250 feet wide just north of the present NCR plant on S. Fayette St. — on the area commonly known as the NCR baseball field.

Dimensions indicate the new plant will be about the same width as the present plant and nearly a third longer. Cost of construction was not announced.

The more-than-doubled facilities will provide a "substantial" increase in employment, Stanley C. Allyn, NCR president, has said.

NCR'S PLANT here converts bulk paper into various-sized rolls for use in cash registers, accounting machines and adding machines and also produces other business supply items.

The front of the building will be constructed of stone and masonry, the sides of brick and steel sash. The structure will be one story tall except for a 50-foot area at the front where a second story will house offices.

As a part of the project, the present plant will be remodelled to conform with the new structure's design. Remodelling will add an additional 6,500 feet of floor space to it.

Total floor space in the two plants together will be about 240,500 feet.

Truck-loading facilities and a railroad spur will be installed at the new structure. Parking facilities will be provided for 285 cars.

The old and new buildings will be connected by a tunnel.

Erected as a defense plant just prior to World War II, the present plant was acquired by NCR as a supply manufacturing plant following the war. During the war precision parts for war planes were made in the plant by the Aeronautical Products, Inc.

Last October, NCR took a five-year lease on 42,000 square feet of space in the former Washington C. H. building, 133 S. Main St., which is being used as a stock room for some supplies.

Wilson-Zhukov Talk 'Might Prove Useful'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today a meeting of Russia's Marshal Zhukov and Secretary of Defense Wilson might prove useful.

Eisenhower made the comment at a news conference which ranged into foreign affairs, but also dealt heavily with prime domestic subjects.

The President's suggestion that a Zhukov-Wilson meeting might be worthwhile stemmed from a request for comment on the recent shakeup of the Kremlin top command.

On that point, Eisenhower said in his opinion the shakeup resulted from fundamental changes within the Soviet government.

Eisenhower recalled that he and Zhukov, now Soviet defense minister, became quite well acquainted at the end of World War II. They were both in Berlin at the time.

THE PRESIDENT went on to say that he and Zhukov at that time cooperated very closely, and that a Zhukov-Wilson meeting at this time might prove profitable by bringing together defense ministers of the two countries.

The President also discussed these topics:

Atomic stockpile—As Secretary of State Dulles did Tuesday, Eisenhower said this country is considering the possibility of putting a stockpile of atomic weapons at the disposal of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

A reporter suggested that such a program might be illogical in the light of current disarmament talks. Eisenhower disagreed, saying NATO was created to help our allies defend themselves, that the means of doing so should be made available to them.

Manpower—The President also said there is no connection between the disarmament talks and Tuesday's Pentagon announcement that U. S. armed forces will be cut by 100,000 men by the end of this year.

Discussing the projected manpower reduction, Eisenhower said both he and Wilson believe the United States at present is a little stronger in manpower than is necessary.

Treaties — Discussing demands in Congress for ending status of forces treaties, requiring foreign trials for American servicemen in some instances, Eisenhower made it emphatically clear he is against any such move.

The status of forces treaties are absolutely essential, he said, adding that without such alliances we would be compelled to bring home American troops stationed abroad.

Eisenhower also said that he believes the case of Army Specialist 3c William S. Girard has been whipped up all out of proportion to its importance. Girard is charged with firing a shell casing which killed a Japanese woman.

New Ohio River Dam To Cost $70 Million

CINCINNATI (AP) — The U. S. Corps of Engineers office here has tentatively chosen a spot at Chilo, about 34 miles upriver, for a new high-level dam on the Ohio River.

Construction is expected to start next spring on the $70 million project, part of a river modernization program from Gallipolis to Louisville, Ky.

Hereford Group Expecting 500 For Field Day

Judging Contest To Highlight Meet At Bea-Mar Farms

More than 500 boys and girls from 4-H clubs and Future Farmers from all over the state are expected here Thursday for the annual field day and barbecue of the Ohio Hereford Breeders Assn.

The event will be held this year at the Bea-Mar Farms on the CCC Highway west of Washington, C. H.

With the young people will be an unestimated number of parents, teachers and advisors.

Highlight of the field day will be the cattle judging, by these young people, although the beef barbecue at noon always has been a major attraction.

At stake in the judging will be two scholarships to Ohio State University. They are valued at $250 apiece and will be given with no strings attached.

The judging, which will start at 10 a. m., will be done both by teams representing 4-H and Future Farmer clubs and by individuals.

The high-scoring individuals will be awarded the scholarships, but the members of the winning teams from the junior (18 years old and under) and the senior (19 years old and over) divisions will be presented trophies by Sam B. Marting, master of Bea-Mar Farms. The individual winners also will receive trophies, which they may keep as reminders of their achievements.

Marting, host for the big affair as well as the co-ordinator of the program, said he expected the judging will be completed by around 1 p. m.

Arthur Scott, Emerson Marting and Ted Knisley will bring some registered Herefords from their herds to be put with those from the Bea-Mar herd for the boys—and girls, too—to judge.

Marting said plans called for four "rings" of four cattle each for the young judges.

A weight judging contest also is a part of the overall program.

Boys and girls will come from all over Ohio; Marting said he thought there would be at least one team from "nearly every county in the state."

While the score sheets are being tallied after the barbecue lunch, two specialists in the beef cattle field will discuss some subjects of vital interest to cattlemen—even the young ones.

Dr. Harry Geyer, chief veterinarian for Ohio, will talk on "Disease Problems of the Cattle Industry," and Dr. Robert Knudsen, the federal veterinarian assigned to Ohio, will talk on "Federal Regulations for Inter-state Movement of Cattle."

125-Foot Fall Sends Workmen to Hospital

CLEVELAND (AP)—Carroll Davidson, 35, Mantua, survived a 125-foot fall Tuesday from the new Innerbelt Bridge into the Cuyahoga River. Three other workmen on the $16 million bridge across the Cuyahoga Valley have been killed in falls from the span. Davidson was taken to St. Vincent Charity Hospital, complaining of stomach pains.

Mrs. Dorothy Ragan of Wilmington and Mrs. Evie Bonecutter of Tucson, Ariz.

Arrangements for the funeral services have not been completed.

Four Are Treated After Accidents

Treated in the emergency room at Memorial Hospital Tuesday were two men, who sustained cuts from pieces of metal, and two children also accidentally injured.

Harry Arnold of near Washington, C. H. and Lincoln Schwartz of 309 N. High St. both sustained cuts from pieces of steel in separate accidents.

Mike Eugene Lowe, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Lowe, 914 E. Market St., cut his forehead when he rolled over in bed and hit it against a window sill.

Jeri Ann Runnels, 1, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Runnels, 413 Eastern Ave., was treated after she fell and cut her nose.

Youth Is Injured Seriously In Fall

Forrest Hamilton, 4, son of Mrs. Ray Wilson, 432 East St., is in The Hillsboro Hospital recovering from injuries received in a fall from a load of hay.

Mrs. Wilson said her son had been visiting his grandfather, Fred Beery, in Hillsboro and had gone to his farm last Monday where the hay was being put up. He was on top of a load of hay on a wagon going along Route 50, about 2 miles from Hillsboro, when he fell off.

He suffered a concussion, cuts and bruises and probably will remain in the hospital the rest of this week.

16 Aboard Lost Air Force Plane

TAIPEI (AP)—An intensive air, sea and ground search today failed to turn up any trace of a U. S. Air Force C-47 missing with 16 persons aboard, all military personnel.

Radio contact with the plane was broken Tuesday night as it neared the end of a journey to Taipei from Clark Field, in the Philippines.

U. S. Air Force headquarters in Taipei said there was nothing to substantiate Chinese reports that it had crashed in the mountains on Formosa.

Migrant Labor Panel Meeting

COLUMBUS (AP)—The governor's committee on migrant labor met today to consider the working conditions and pay of seasonal farm laborers imported from the southwest into Ohio.

The committee headed by Dave Sunderland of Findlay, manager of the Northern Ohio Sugar Co., heard reports on the condition of housing for the workers. Ohio imports about 7,500 such workers during the season mainly for the sugar beet and tomato industries in northwestern Ohio.

State health department reports showed that although some housing was poor, much housing was satisfactory.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

As I walked through an uptown alley and noted the type of weeds growing along the buildings, I smiled.

I recognized one weed as the same kind a man, who resided near Milledgeville, peddled here and in Columbus several years ago for marijuana, the smoking of which literally drives the smoker loco.

The man told officers he had sold quite a lot of the weed in Columbus before being picked up as a marijuana peddler; thus, several dope buyers were duped, but the man escaped prosecution there.

I do not recall what was done with him here, because the fake marijuana he was peddling was, insofar as known, perfectly harmless.

WATCH FOR THEM

The furnace racket men are active once more and several persons involved in the racket are up for investigation in Columbus.

These men work all kinds of schemes in making furnace "repairs" or selling new furnaces at exorbitant prices. The public is warned to beware of strangers and not to arrange for furnace expense without knowing the persons and what the cost is going to be.

Likewise the racketeers in "roof repair", as well as "chimney repairs" and many other schemes in which they pretend to do work and then charge enormous prices are busy, and anyone having reason to suspect such persons should notify the sheriff's office or the police immediately.

Watch for these racketeers and report them, is the admonition given to the public generally.

FAYETTE COUNTY BEDROCK

As a result of the Kewanee Oil Co.'s first test well in this area, where the company has about 425,000 acres under lease, it is now known, for the first time, that the bedrock under Fayette County is nearly a mile below the surface.

This bedrock is a pink granite at least in the spot where the drilling was done. Since the granite probably underlies the entire area at about the same depth, it is right to assume that further wells drilled in the area probably will not exceed the depth of the first well. Some may halt 1,000 feet or more short of the 4,706 feet where the bedrock was struck.

It is understood that when granite is struck search for oil below that point ends.

FIRE BLIGHT BAD

I have noticed that "fire blight" again has struck pear trees in various places in the county and surrounding counties, with the result that some of the trees have been almost denuded of small branches.

"Fire blight" attacks the twigs, causing them to wither and die within a short time. Some pear trees this year have been hit so hard by the blight that they are bearing few if any pears.

I have noticed over a period of years that the blight seems worse during seasons when there is more than normal rainfall.

No effort has been made to eliminate "fire blight" in orchards in Fayette County, except the two commercial orchards, it seems. As a result, "fire blight" has been more or less in evidence among fruit trees, chiefly Keifer pear trees, for many years.

TRUMPET VINE ABUNDANT

The common trumpet vine is more or less abundant in Fayette County, in fact over most of Ohio. At the present time it is blooming profusely.

This vine has sizeable, long trumpet shaped flowers, orange and reddish in color, and once it gains a foothold must be eradicated by digging deep for the main roots.

I note that a trumpet vine has climbed a telephone pole along the Creek Rd. a short distance south of Route 35 and has not only reached the top but spread to the cross-arms. It is blooming at the very top of the pole. It probably will soon be interfering with service on the line.

A number of years ago, while with a party of other botanists in eastern Ross County, we had a new man with us who wished to learn more about flora generally.

The trumpet vine was pointed out to him, and he later wished to prove that he still remembered what the vine was, so he said: "There's a nice big clump of that bugle vine!"

District Governor Speaks At Rotary Club Luncheon

It was "District Governor's Day" at Tuesday's luncheon meeting of the Washington Rotary Club.

William H. Hiestand, head of the Preble County National Bank at Eaton, new district governor, was present to speak before the club and guests.

FOLLOWING the regular club meeting and as a part of his official annual visit, the presided at a meeting of the club assembly made up of the chairman of each committee. He received reports from officers and committee chairmen and discussed plans for the club's future activities.

During the regular club program he delivered what attending members declared to be a very earnest and polished appeal for Rotarians of this club and throughout the district to meet the challenge of "Buzz" Tennen, president of Rotary International, for plans toward new progress in the future of the organization.

Presented by Robert Haigler, club president, Gov. Hiestand caught the attention of his audience immediately by declaring "no organization has a right to existence solely for its own sake, or to occupy men's time solely for such a purpose."

From that point he began to enumerate many ideas that unfold in progressive action by an alert Rotary Club, moves for betterment of civic life and in relation to other organizations and individuals.

His plea carried with it an earnest recommendation that Rotarians carry the principles of Rotary into their business life. "You can dignify your occupations and still serve society well, thus justifying our membership in Rotary through helpful relations with other people," he asserted.

THE SPEAKER stressed what he termed the "importance of our obligations to the youth of our communities which will make these young people accept their responsibility in local civic projects.

He urged Rotarians to "enlist for action" in the many challenges which face them today. "To accomplish what we should, we must revitalize and re-examine our concepts; we must extend, explore and serve in the many obligations toward good citizenship in following the ideals and objectives of Rotary."

President Haigler in thanking Governor Hiestand for his address and visit here, called Hiestand's remarks "an inspiring Rotary message."

Among those present were two past-district governors, Colin Campbell, member of the club here and Ohio Supreme Court Judge James Bell, of London.

OTHER ROTARIANS present as guests from a distance were Samuel Voorhier of Nashville, Tenn.; Eugene Coon, of Hempstead, N. Y.; and Floyd Wilkins of Homer, New York. Also present were Carl Burger and William Endres of Mt. Sterling; Wilson Moon, Roy Bergen, William Ransford and Kenneth Upp of Greenfield.

Another guest and a Rotarian, was Claude Brunner of Elyria, a former superintendent of the Washington C. H. schools.

Walter Patton, now a resident of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. visiting here, was introduced as a club guest but he hastily announced that he was still a member of the Washington Club.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY
As I walked through an uptown alley and noted the type of weeds growing along the buildings, I smiled.

I recognized one weed as the same kind a man, who resided near Milledgeville, peddled here and in Columbus several years ago for marijuana, the smoking of which literally drives the smoker loco.

The man told officers he had sold quite a lot of the weed in Columbus before being picked up as a marijuana peddler; thus, several dope buyers were duped, but the man escaped prosecution there.

I do not recall what was done with him here, because the fake marijuana he was peddling was, insofar as known, perfectly harmless.

WATCH FOR THEM

The furnace racket men are active once more and several persons involved in the racket are up for investigation in Columbus.

These men work all kinds of schemes in making furnace "repairs" or selling new furnaces at exorbitant prices. The public is warned to beware of strangers and not to arrange for furnace expense without knowing the persons and what the cost is going to be.

Likewise the racketeers in "roof repair", as well as "chimney repairs" and many other schemes in which they pretend to do work and then charge enormous prices are busy, and anyone having reason to suspect such persons should notify the sheriff's office or the police immediately.

Watch for these racketeers and report them, is the admonition given to the public generally.

FAYETTE COUNTY BEDROCK

As a result of the Kewanee Oil Co.'s first test well in this area, where the company has about 425,000 acres under lease, it is now known, for the first time, that the bedrock under Fayette County is nearly a mile below the surface.

This bedrock is a pink granite at least in the spot where the drilling was done. Since the granite probably underlies the entire area at about the same depth, it is right to assume that further wells drilled in the area probably will not exceed the depth of the first well. Some may halt 1,000 feet or more short of the 4,706 feet where the bedrock was struck.

It is understood that when granite is struck search for oil below that point ends.

FIRE BLIGHT BAD

I have noticed that "fire blight" again has struck pear trees in various places in the county and surrounding counties, with the result that some of the trees have been almost denuded of small branches.

"Fire blight" attacks the twigs, causing them to wither and die within a short time. Some pear trees this year have been hit so hard by the blight that they are bearing few if any pears.

I have noticed over a period of years that the blight seems worse during seasons when there is more than normal rainfall.

No effort has been made to eliminate "fire blight" in orchards in Fayette County, except the two commercial orchards, it seems. As a result, "fire blight" has been more or less in evidence among fruit trees, chiefly Keifer pear trees, for many years.

TRUMPET VINE ABUNDANT

The common trumpet vine is more or less abundant in Fayette County, in fact over most of Ohio. At the present time it is blooming profusely.

This vine has sizeable, long trumpet shaped flowers, orange and reddish in color, and once it gains a foothold must be eradicated by digging deep for the main roots.

I note that a trumpet vine has climbed a telephone pole along the Creek Rd. a short distance south of Route 35 and has not only reached the top but spread to the cross-arms. It is blooming at the very top of the pole. It probably will soon be interfering with service on the line.

A number of years ago, while with a party of other botanists in eastern Ross County, we had a new man with us who wished to learn more about flora generally.

The trumpet vine was pointed out to him, and he later wished to prove that he still remembered what the vine was, so he said: "There's a nice big clump of that bugle vine!"

Restaurants in the United States are serving an average of 70 million meals a day.

District Governor Speaks At Rotary Club Luncheon

It was "District Governor's Day" at Tuesday's luncheon meeting of the Washington Rotary Club.

William H. Hiestand, head of the Preble County National Bank at Eaton, new district governor, was present to speak before the club and guests.

FOLLOWING the regular club meeting and as a part of his official annual visit, the president of a meeting of the club assembly made up of the chairman of each committee. He received reports from officers and committee chairmen and discussed plans for the club's future activities.

During the regular club program he delivered what attending members declared to be a very earnest and polished appeal for Rotarians of this club and throughout the district to meet the challenge of "Buzz" Tennent, president of Rotary International, for plans toward new progress in the future of the organization.

Presented by Robert Haigler, club president, Gov. Hiestand caught the attention of his audience immediately by declaring

"no organization has a right to existence solely for its own sake, or to occupy men's time solely for such a purpose."

From that point he began to enumerate many ideas that unfold in progressive action by an alert Rotary Club, moves for betterment of civic life and in relation to other organizations and individuals.

His plea carried with it an earnest recommendation that Rotarians carry the principles of Rotary into their business life. "You can dignify your occupations and still serve society well, thus justifying our membership in Rotary through helpful relations with other people," he asserted.

THE SPEAKER stressed what he termed the "importance of our obligations to the youth of our communities which will make these young people accept their responsibility in local civic projects.

He urged Rotarians to "enlist for action" in the many challenges which face them today. "To accomplish what we should, we must revitalize and re-examine our concepts; we must extend, explore and serve in the many obligations toward good citizenship in following the ideals and objectives of Rotary."

President Haigler in thanking Governor Hiestand for his address and visit here, called Hiestand's remarks "an inspiring Rotary message."

Among those present were two past-district-governors, Colin Campbell, member of the club here and Ohio Supreme Court Judge James Bell, of London.

OTHER ROTARIANS present as guests from a distance were Samuel Voorhier of Nashville, Tenn., Eugene Coon, of Hempstead, N. Y., and Floyd Wilkins of Homer, New York. Also present were Carl Burger and William Endres of Mt. Sterling; Wilson Moon, Roy Bergen, William Ransford and Kenneth Upp of Greenfield.

Another guest and a Rotarian, was Claude Brunner of Elyria, a former superintendent of the Washington C. H. schools.

Walter Patton, now a resident of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. visiting here, was introduced as a club guest but he hastily announced that he was still a member of the Washington Club.

Will Eisenhower Suggestion Be Approved?

It has been indicated by President Eisenhower that he belongs to that rapidly growing group of authorities who believe that one way to bring about federal tax reduction is for the states to assume responsibility for a number of the costly activities that are carried on by the federal government.

His recent statement to this effect and suggestion of a "task force for action" proposed a three-pronged approach: "To designate functions which the states are ready and willing to assume and finance, that are now performed or financed wholly or in part by the federal government; to recommend the federal and state revenue adjustments required to enable the states to assume such functions; and to identify functions and responsibilities likely to require state or federal attention in the future and to recommend the level of state effort or federal effort, or both, that will be needed to assure effective action." As specific examples of programs in which there should be greater state participation, the president cited slum clearance and disaster relief.

It is an obvious fact that the federal government can only spend money which it has first taken from the people and the enterprises of the states. It is also a fact that a substantial proportion of that money is absorbed by federal administrative overhead -- and that in most instances the states would get more concrete return out of each dollar if they did the work themselves.

Moreover, the money saving, important as it is, would be only a part of the benefits that would result. If the states knew they had to do their own financing, they'd examine spending proposals with much more critical eyes -- instead of seeking government aid for all manner of unnecessary projects. Then, best of all, there would be reaffirmation of the largely forgotten principle that local needs should be met so far as possible by local action--a principle which lies at the heart of free, representative government.

It was significant however that many of the governors and other state authorities appeared cold to the idea although it was finally grudgingly adopted. Gov. O'Neill of Ohio, however, supported the president's idea.

It is usually easier for most officials to desire to depend on asking federal government for grants, rather than to have to appeal to people of their own states or counties for finances for some of the funds the U. S. Treasury now provide.

State and county officials do not like the idea of asking for additional taxes. It brings criticism closer home.

Every Day Is Saturday Night

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—William Basie, a man upon whom immortality has smiled in his own lifetime, believes in living every day as if it were Saturday night. "I've never been bored," said Bill, better known as Count Basie, dean of "jump swing" who will be 53 next month and has been pounding a piano longer than he can remember.

The Count, a natural genius at his type of music, is the son of a Red Bank, N. J., caretaker. He took only a few 25-cent lessons as a boy, rocketed to the top of the jazz world more than two decades ago, and stayed there ever since.

His band, named as "the best" four years in a row in a poll of critics made by Downbeat Magazine, has made three transatlantic tours. It recently completed an extended engagement at the Waldorf-Astoria, the first Negro band to be featured at that swank Park Avenue hostelry.

Basie has survived the post-war jinx that struck down many big name bands, but if you ask him how he has remained on top for so long, the Count replies as if surprised:

"The top? That's the place we're scuffling to reach. The big problem is to hold on to what you've got."

The Count is a man who likes his gin straight and takes life the same way. He expresses himself best in rhythm, not in words and he speaks with a cautious modesty and inveterate court-ney.

"If I've learned one thing," he remarked, "it's this: don't forget people. If you pass them going up, they're going to be still around, remembering, when you pass them going the other way."

The Count, composer of "The One O'clock Jump" and other hits, started as a $3 a night pounder in a Chinese restaurant on the New Jersey coast. He began to reach the big time in 1935 when he took over Benny Moten's band at the old Reno Club on 12th Street in Kansas City.

"They never closed the doors."

Many oldtime jazz men think the musicians they played with in their youth--the fabulous players of the fabulous 1920s--have never been equalled. Not the Count.

"The kids today think much better," he said. "They're better technicians. Their brains are well advanced. They think fast."

"But the old song writers did seem to put more into their songs than you find in many songs written today. They wrote them on the wall to stay and we're still going back to them."

The Count believes the greatest figures in jazz in his lifetime have been Duke Ellington ("He is the golden arrow; he is the man"), Satchmo Armstrong, Tommy Dorsey and Benny Goodman.

And the greatest jazz tunes? "Well, 'St. Louis Blues' is the all-time tune. That's the national anthem as far as I'm concerned. And 'Some of These Days' and 'Twelfth Street Rag,' and I think I'll stop with them."

Dangers of Shyster Groups

By George Sokolsky

Irwin Rhodes, a lawyer in Cincinnati, has raised an issue which the American Bar Association is naturally ducking because it is a very tough one to face. His point is that lay organizations are unlawfully practicing law. He calls attention to the face that ideological and pressure groups "have set up legal staffs on national and local bases and have as adjuncts legal committees and panels. Staff attorneys are generally salaried; other attorneys are paid for services rendered, often by or through the organization, or donate their legal services. These legal staffs and their cooperators have sought out cases intended to establish principles of law favorable to their cause, sometimes in the name of an individual, often solicited for the purpose, sometimes in the name of the organization itself."

Obviously this is bad legal practice, the American concept placing upon the lawyer the responsibility of not seeking clients; certainly when he creates the client, he is acting like those "strike-suit" lawyers who are really their own clients and whose object it is to blackmail a corporation into paying to have a suit withdrawn.

The pressure group is a curious American phenomenon and is a product of our wealth and profligacy. We will pay for anything if it becomes inconvenient or unpleasant not to pay. In most free countries, polite societies exist to discuss current problems; there have also always been agitation groups which seek to stir the people to the acceptance of a certain philosophy of life. Hyde Park in London is dedicated to such activities.

But nowhere else in the world do the protagonists of an idea or of a position have enough money to organize as they do in the U. S., to occupy enormous office space, to employ many men and women, some of whom are even experts, to own a tremendous inventory of equipment and to maintain public relations office in New York and lobbying agents in Washington. These organizations, no matter for what temporary reason organized, become permanent institutions ever seeking new activities for their large staffs.

Rhodes told the American Bar Association: "These organizations have held themselves out as specialists in their field and through their legal counsel have offered and provided legal advice to laymen, litigants, as well as to lawyers. They have supplies funds for litigation, recommended ad supplied counsel to litigants either from their own staff, committees and panels, or from selected groups, in their own name and in the name of litigants, have intervened in pending cases, and have in instances interjected themselves into cases without prior request initiating from litigants."

These are very serious charges and according to the Canon of Legal Ethics, the American Bar Association should go after these organizations at once and should bring charges against the lawyers concerned, because these are definitely shyster practices and remind me of my earliest childhood when "Silver Dollar" Smith ran a beer Saloon opposite the Essex Market Courthouse in New York where justice was bought and sold and Smith cleaned up so bountifully that he paved the floor of his Saloon with silver dollars, a desecration of Federal currency, beyond count.

However, I do not believe that Rhodes will get to first base with his protest because many of the organizations to which he refers are now politically more powerful than the American Bar Association and control and dominate many politicians who can be defeated in their areas if the opposition of these organizations to them becomes sufficiently vehement.

Rhodes makes the point in his memorandum: "These organizations habitually boast of their legal activities and prowess in their publications, their daily publicity and particularly in their annual reports. It is obvious why they must do so; not only is the gaining of legal results one of their aims, but in addition, their income..."

The proof of the ability of these pressure groups has been established beyond question, by a series of Supreme Court decisions which have been precisely characteristic of the programs of these various pressure groups to which Irwin Rhodes refers. Actually the pressure groups have succeeded in their effort to destroy the FBI. In the Jencks and Mallory decisions, the Supreme Court hit the FBI in vital spots and Congress has been slow to protect the American people. It was an interesting victory for the wrong side.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

ARTHUR HADLEY'S Do I Make Myself Clear is a primer of basic Washingtonese that no visitor to the national capital can afford to overlook. Without Hadley to interpret, how could you know, for instance, that when a practised politico says, "This has been a matter of principle to me since childhood," he means "It's a deal!"

"My answer is a definite and final no" is congressional slang for "For the present I'm against it."

"A multi-million-dollar giveaway program" means "no money being spent in my district."

"The press has not been entirely accurate in its presentation of this affair" is the politician's way of saying, "They've caught me lying."

And "I am receiving information from business men and labor leaders all over the country that the provisions of this law have proved grossly unfair" simply means "My brother-in-law is in trouble!"

Drug Firms "Dig" For New Medicine

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

SOMETIMES you really have to dig for new medicines. That is exactly what representatives of various pharmaceutical firms are doing throughout the world. In fact, one of the larger drug manufacturers has some 1,300 salesmen, plus hundreds of volunteer employees, collecting soil samples in an unending search for new antibiotics.

Helped Cure Ills
The earth already has yielded numerous medical remedies which, when combined with man's scientific skills, have helped cure the ills of its inhabitants.

The antibiotic Chloromycetin is one example. Soil used in its discovery was South American.

Here is the way one pharmaceutical house gets soil samples. The salesmen and other employees collect soil from any spot they choose—a field, a backyard, in the midst of a forest. One salesman collector in the western area sent in a sample taken "from the fifth tee at the Washoe County Golf Course" at Reno, Nevada.

Another came from the flower garden of a Bermuda hotel. Most soil contains three classes of microscopic plants—molds, bacteria and actinomycetes—and anywhere from five to 20 species of each class.

© 1957, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

At the laboratory these samples are put through a long process which includes two incubation periods and two phases of agitation on a shaking machine.

Each species is isolated, grown in test tubes and tested against various bacteria to determine its ability to inhibit growth of specific types of bacteria. Less than a third prove active. Then follows chemical and biological investigation.

Tests Are Made
Tests are made on animals and a year or longer is required to make certain the antibiotic will not adversely affect humans. Altogether, it may take three or four years to develop a new antibiotic after the soil sample is received.

You never know which soil will produce a new medicine. Maybe your backyard contains the cure for one of mankind's most dreaded diseases.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Answer: A condition of this type may be due to nervousness or to certain diseases affecting the heart muscle.

In cases of this kind an electrocardiogram and a careful examination are necessary in order to establish the correct diagnosis.

AWOL GI Nabbed After Police Chase

CINCINNATI (AP)—A soldier, who was AWOL from Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., was arrested here Tuesday after he wrecked a stolen auto during a police chase.

Police said the soldier, Gilbert Owen, 23, of Dayton, previously had looted two money boxes at St. Mary Church in the Hyde Park section of the city of an undetermined amount of cash. Officers said the Rev. Paul Galvin, pastor of the church, reported he saw Owen leaving the church and took down his license number as he drove away. Police spotted the car a short time later and gave chase. The car was wrecked when it hit a girder supporting a railroad overpass.

'Old Age' Fails To Slow Ted Williams' Bat

38-Year-Old Thumper Leads AL in Homers, Nears Mantle's Pace

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
You have to figure Thumper Ted Williams as the biggest boon to the aged since Bernard MacFadden celebrated his 84th birthday with a parachute jump.

The Boston Red Sox slugger will be 39 next month, an old man in baseball, but he's giving the kids a fit in the American League, wrestling the home run lead from Mickey Mantle and closing within one point of the Mick in the batting battle.

Williams has hit 26 home runs and is batting .360. Mantle, the 25-year-old New York Yankee center fielder who last year became the first triple crown winner since Williams did it in 1947, has hit 24 home runs and is batting .361.

The Thumper was at it again Tuesday night, belting his 26th homer in 90-degree heat at Kansas City to trigger a three-run ninth that beat the A's 4-3.

Mantle, complaining of feeling tired, was 0-for-3, but walked and scored the winning run in a 10-4, 10-inning victory at Detroit that padded the Yankees' lead to four games over Chicago. The White Sox were beaten 3-1 by Baltimore.

Cleveland made it five in a row with a 9-3 job on Wednesday.

In the National, Philadelphia held first place despite a 6-2 defeat by Milwaukee as Brooklyn beat second-place St. Louis 7-5. Cincinnati lost 6-1 at New York, with Redleg slugger Frank Robinson suffering a concussion when beamed by Ruben Gomez.

Pittsburgh's Pirates took two from Chicago, winning 5-4 on Frank Thomas' home run in the completion of a June 16 suspended game, and then taking a regulation game 5-3 as Thomas rapped a two-run double in a three-run seventh after Bob Rush had one-hit 'em 'til then.

Williams was 1-for-2 last night and put Virgil Trucks, who had an eight-inning shutout, on the ropes. A walk and Jackie Jensen's 12th homer followed to nail it. Ike Delock won it in relief, although tagged for Woody Held's second home run of the game in the ninth.

The Yankees blew a 4-1 lead in the ninth before Tommy Byrne came on to end the Tiger rally by striking out Charlie Maxwell. Byrne hit a three-run homer to cap the six-run 10th off loser Paul Foytack and Al Abel.

Early Wynn, another 37-year-old took the m-jor league strikeout lead at 117 with seven while winning his 12th by limiting Washington to eight hits. Vic Wertz drove in three Tribe runs with a home run and single.

The Orioles won it on Billy Goodman's two-run homer in the eighth inning.

The Braves pulled with a half game of the Phils, one point back of the Cardinals, as Warren Sphan won his 10th with a six-inning shutout. The Phils had the bases loaded in the ninth when Andy Pafko made a diving snare of Richie Ashburn's sinking liner to end it. Hank Aaron's 29th homer came in the first with a m-jor against loser Harvey Haddix and the Braves' slugger reclaimed the NL bat lead at .348 with a 3-for-3 night while Cardinal Stan Musial fell to .343 with 1-for-4.

Duke Snider's 20th home run, with a man on, triggered a four-run fifth that bagged it for the Brooks, who scored twice in the fourth on Wally Moon's throwing error. Carl Erskine won it in relief of rookie Danny McDevitt.

Daryl Spencer and Ed Bressoud drove in all the Giant runs, with Spencer hammering in four on a single and two homers. Willie Mays was 4-for-4 in the Giant attack against loser Hal Jeffcoat and reliever Hersh Freeman.

Dee-Dees Win From Jet-ettes

The Dee-Dees won a softball game, 12 to 5, from the Jet-ettes at the community park Tuesday evening and with the victory won the right to meet the Panthers Thursday evening for the girls softball title.

If the Dee-Dees beat the Panthers, it will take another game for the decision; if the Panthers win, they will take the crown.

If everything goes according to plan, the personnel will be reshuffled for better balance for another series of games. A couple more teams may be added to the circuit.

This is all a part of the community recreation program under the direction of Fred Domancic.

The lineup (player, runs and hits) were:

Dee-Dees—Mabry 1-0; Owens 3-0; Johns 1-1; Stevens 3-0; Watson 1-1; Emerick 3-0; Foster 0-1; Palmer 0-2 and Ducoy 0-0.

Jet-ettes—Somers 1-1; Kesner 1-0; Iles 1-4; Graves 1-1; Reno 0-0; West 0-0; Cummings 0-0; Coe 0-0; Pugh 0-1 and Jones 1-1.

Herb Flam Chalks Pair of Victories

CHICAGO (P)—Herb Flam, the National Clay Courts defending champion, showed little signs of strain Tuesday in pounding out first and second round victories on the rainswept courts at River Forest.

Flam, who failed to appear Monday for a first round match, framed in a pair Tuesday in defeating William Cullen of Southport, Conn., 6-3, 6-4, and Jerry Dubie, Hamtramck, Mich., 6-4, 6-2.

Willie Pep Starts Another Comeback

EL PASO, Tex. (P)—Former featherweight champion Willie Pep of Hartford, Conn., started his comeback with an easy decision over Manny Maestriro Castro Tuesday night.

Pep, who says he's going to regain his crown, punched Castro, who hails from Miami, Fla., at will and piled up a sizable advantage in points.

What's Happened To Red-Hot Cards?

BROOKLYN (P)—What's happened to the St. Louis Cards? Just a week ago the Redbirds were flying high with five straight victories, which included a sweep of four games from Cincinnati, and appeared safely in first place in the National League with a fat three-game lead.

Today the Red Birds were barely holding on to second, only half a game ahead of the fourth-place Brooklyn Dodgers and in grave danger of falling into the second division. They have lost five of their last six games.

Herb Score Slated To Start Practice

CLEVELAND (P)—Herb Score says the vision in his injured right eye "isn't as good as I would like it," but he plans a comeback in mid-August as a Cleveland Indians pitcher.

His doctor Tuesday OK'd workouts starting Thursday, and said the 24-year-old southpaw should be able to pitch "ir four to six weeks."

Dr. Charles I. Thomas said he found "great improvement" in Score's eye, hit by a line drive in a game with the New York Yankees last May 7.

Giardello, Vejar

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (P)—Joey Giardello and Chico Vejar, who met tonight in a nationally televised, scheduled 10-round fight, have one thing in common: They both need the win.

Giardello, currently ranked No. 1 among the middleweights, wants shot at the championship. A loss tonight could imperil his chances.

Elks Edge Rockets In Minor League

The Elks squeaked by the Rockets, 17-15 in a high-scoring Little Minor League game at Armbrust Field Tuesday evening.

Mark Frederick and Gary Scott shared the hurling duties for the Rockets while Jack Campbell and Wayne Bass were the Elk hurlers.

James Thomas of the Elks and Frederick, Rockets, contributed home runs to each team's 12 hit attack.

Here are the lineups:

ELKS: Mahoney, Davis, J. Campbell, Keiffer, Griffith, E. Campbell, Southworth, Thomas, Bass, Hagerty, Brown, M. Campbell, Cox, Estle and Bennett. Battery: J. Campbell, Bass, and Thomas.

ROCKETS: Frederick, Anderson, Dodds, Jones, McNutt, Vrettos, Leaverton, Hixson, Wilson, Scott, Simpson, Anthony, Mowery, Iles. Battery: Scott, Frederick and Wilson, Dodds.

Realtors Lose To Kernels

Gary Thompson belted a grand slam home run at Wilson Field Tuesday night as the Realtors, 12-4, Kernels, cooled off the Realtors, 12-4.

Harry O'Cull, Kernel hurler, halted the Realtors' 5-game win streak in whiffing 11 Realtors and scattering eight hits. The Kernels, after losing three straight games, now have won two straight.

Early Wynn Seen Headed For 20 Wins

CLEVELAND (P)—Word that Herb Score won't be pitching for the Tribe again until late August makes Early Wynn a near-cinch to be a 20-game winner for the fifth time in seven seasons.

The veteran knuckleballer won his 12th Tuesday night against Washington, 9-3, and is ahead of his pace in 1952 and 1954 when he had his biggest victory total—23 games.

Wynn has been the workhorse of the Cleveland Indians this season because of injuries to Score and Bob Lemon. Wynn's total innings are 159 1/3, or more than half again as many as Lemon's 105. Mike Garcia has worked 97 2/3 innings for the third high total.

Somewhat wilder than usual, Wynn walked seven Tuesday night and fanned the same number. The Tribe ran its victory string to five.

If the Indians can repeat against Washington tonight when Don Mossi hurls against the visitors' Chuck Stobbs, Cleveland will have its longest chain of triumphs during the current season.

Wynn allowed Washington eight hits, including a home run by Lou Berberet after Roy Sievers' single in the sixth. A first-inning single by Sievers after Pete Runnels had singled and advanced on a passed ball accounted for the other National run.

Vic Wertz, with a home run and single, and Gene Woodling with a double and single, led a 13-hit attack by the Indians.

Women's Medalist Faces Old Nemesis

OMAHA (P)—Veteran Mrs. Maurice Glick of Baltimore posed as a threat today for medalist Barbara Romack Porter in the second round of the Women's Western Amateur Golf Tournament.

Mrs. Glick, six times the Maryland champion and a former holder of the Cuban title, was rated a dangerous foe for the little Sacramento, Calif., blonde who never has gone beyond the second round in the Western.

Barbara, a 1956 member of the Curtis Cup team, has defeated the eastern contender three times in tournament play. "But it was close each time," she said.

Seals Winners At Good Hope

Gil Crouse crashed out his third home run of the season at Good Hope Tuesday evening as the Seals unleashed a 15-hit attack and downed the Good Hopes, 14 to 11, in a Babe Ruth game.

Although the Seals belted 15 hits they were in constant trouble as Seal pitchers Wilt and Jones gave up 15 bases on balls.

Three of the five Good Hope hits were triple blows by Newman, Hoppes and Frock.

Crouse led the Seal onslaught with three hits in addition to his home run while Butch Reiber cracked out three hits in five trips to the dish.

Jones and Wilt struck out seven and gave up five hits but kept their team in plenty of trouble with their wildness. The seals were guilty of two errors while the Good Hoppers had five.

At one time in the game, the Good Hope team had a 7-0 lead, but a big 6-run sixth inning gave a 12-7 lead to the Seals.

Solon Predicts 4 New Cities In Majors

WASHINGTON (P)—Rep. Price (D-Ill.) predicted today that major league baseball will be played in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Miami and Houston within 5 to 10 years.

Price, in testimony prepared for the House antitrust subcommittee resuming sports hearings today, said his "own personal idea" is that the two major leagues eventually will expand from 8 to 10 clubs each and the four cities he named will benefit.

The Illinois congressman, a former sport editor, offered some comfort also to New York, now fearing possible loss of the Dodgers to Los Angeles and the Giants to San Francisco.

"It cannot be thought seriously that the great city of New York would long remain with a single major league baseball team (the Yankees)," he said, "any more than it can be thought that Los Angeles and San Francisco, to say nothing of Minneapolis and other cities, will much longer remain without any major league clubs."

The subcommittee is considering legislation to fix the status of professional sports under the anti-trust laws.

Price said it would be "a serious mistake to adopt any law, or to encourage the federal courts to reach decisions, that would treat organized baseball merely as a business."

'Old Age' Fails To Slow Ted Williams' Bat

38-Year-Old Thumper Leads AL in Homers, Nears Mantle's Pace

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
You have to figure Thumpin' Ted Williams as the biggest boner to the aged since Bernard MacFadden celebrated his 84th birthday with a parachute jump.

The Boston Red Sox slugger will be 39 next month, an old man in baseball, but he's giving the kids a fit in the American League, wrestling the home run lead from Mickey Mantle and closing within one point of the Mick in the batting battle.

Williams has hit 26 home runs and is batting .360. Mantle, the 25-year-old New York Yankee center fielder who last year became the first triple crown winner since Williams did it in 1947, has hit 24 home runs and is batting .361.

The Thumper was at it again Tuesday night, belting his 26th homer in 90-degree heat at Kansas City to trigger a three-run ninth that beat the A's 4-3.

Mantle, complaining of feeling tired, was 0-for-3, but walked and scored the winning run in a 10-4, 10-inning victory at Detroit that padded the Yankees' lead to four games over Chicago. The White Sox were beaten 3-1 by Baltimore.

Cleveland made it five in a row with a 9-3 job on Washington.

In the National, Philadelphia held first place despite a 6-2 defeat by Milwaukee as Brooklyn beat second-place St. Louis 7-5. Cincinnati lost 6-1 at New York, with Redleg slugger Frank Robinson suffering a concussion when beamed by Ruben Gomez.

Pittsburgh's Pirates took two from Chicago, winning 5-4 on Frank Thomas' home run in the completion of a June 16 suspended game, and then taking a regulation game 5-3 as Thomas rapped a two-run double in a three-run seventh after Bob Rush had one-hit 'em 'til then.

Williams was 1-for-2 last night and put Virgil Trucks, who had an eight-inning fourth hit, on the ropes. A walk and Jackie Jensen's 12th homer followed to nail it. He delcog won it in relief, although tagged for Woody Held's second home run of the game in the ninth.

The Yankees blew a 4-1 lead in the ninth before Tommy Byrne came on to end the Tiger rally by striking out Charlie Maxwell. Byrne hit a three-run homer to cap the six-run 10th off loser Paul Foytack and Al Aber.

Early Wynn, another 37-year-old took the major league strikeout lead at 117 with seven while winning his 12th by limiting Washington to eight hits. Vic Wertz drove in three Tribe runs with a home run and single.

The Orioles won it on Billy Goodman's two-run homer in the eighth inning.

The Braves pulled with a half game of the Phils, one point back of the Cardinals, as Warren Sphan won his 10th with a six-hitter. The Phils had the bases loaded in the ninth when Andy Pafko made a diving snare of Richie Ashburn's sinking liner to end it. Hank Aaron's 29th homer came in the first with a m'n on against loser Harvey Haddix and the Braves' slugger reclaimed the NL bat lead at 348 with a 3-for-3 night while Cardinal Stan Musial fell to .343 with 1-for-4.

Duke Snider's 20th home run, with a man on, triggered a four-run fifth that bagged it for the Brooks, who scored twice in the fourth on Wally Moon's throwing error. Carl Erskine won it in relief of rookie Danny McDevitt.

Daryl Spencer and Ed Bressoud drove in all the Giant runs, with Spencer hammering in four on a single and two homers. Willie Mays was 4-for-4 in the Giant attack against loser Hal Jeffcoat and reliever Hersh Freeman.

Charles Wright smacked out two hits in two trips to lead a five-hit Girton attack.

Lee and Dave Massie garnered all four of the Medics' hits with two apiece.

The win for Girtons was number seven in Babe Ruth play.

Dee-Dees Win From Jet-ettes

The Dee-Dees won a softball game, 12 to 5, from the Jet-ettes at the community park Tuesday evening and with the victory won the right to meet the Panthers Thursday evening for the girls softball title.

If the Dee-Dees beat the Panthers, it will take another game for the decision; if the Panthers win, they will take the crown.

If everything goes according to plan, the personnel will be reshuffled for better balance for another series of games. A couple more teams may be added to the circuit.

This is all a part of the community recreation program under the direction of Fred Domenico.

The lineups (player, runs and hits) were:

Dee-Dees—Mabry 1-0; Owens 3-0; Johns 1-1; Stevens 3-1; Watson 1-1; Emerick 3-0; Foster 0-1; Palmer 0-2 and Ducey 0-0.

Herb Flam Chalks Pair of Victories

CHICAGO (AP)—Herb Flam, the National Clay Courts defending champion, showed little signs of strain Tuesday in pounding out first and second round victories on the rainswept courts at River Forest.

Flam, who failed to appear Monday for a first round match, crammed in a pair Tuesday in defeating William Cullen of Southport, Conn., 6-3, 6-4, and Jerry Dubie, Hamtramck, Mich., 6-4, 6-2.

Willie Pep Starts Another Comeback

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Former featherweight champion Willie Pep of Hartford, Conn., started his comeback with an easy decision over Manny Maestriro Castro Tuesday night.

Pep, who says he's going to regain his crown, punched Castro, who hails from Miami, Fla., at will and piled up a sizable advantage in points.

What's Happened To Red-Hot Cards?

BROOKLYN (AP)—What's happened to the St. Louis Cards? Just a week ago the Redbirds were flying high with five straight victories, which included a sweep of four games from Cincinnati, and appeared safely in first place in the National League with a fat three-game lead.

Today the Red Birds were barely holding on to second, only half a game ahead of the fourth-place Brooklyn Dodgers and in grave danger of falling into the second division. They have lost five of their last six games.

Herb Score Slated To Start Practice

CLEVELAND (AP)—Herb Score says the vision in his injured right eye "isn't as good as I would like it," but he plans a comeback in mid-August as a Cleveland Indians pitcher.

His doctor Tuesday OK'd work-outs starting Thursday, and said the 24-year-old southpaw should be able to pitch "in four to six weeks."

Dr. Charles I. Thomas said he found "great improvement" in Score's eye, hit by a line drive in a game with the New York Yankees last May 7.

Giardello, Vejar

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Joey Giardello and Chico Vejar, who meet tonight in a nationally televised, scheduled 10-round fight, have one thing in common: They both need the win. Giardello, currently ranked No. 1 among the middleweights, wants shot at the championship. A loss might imperil his chances.

Elks Edge Rockets In Minor League

Here are the lineups:

Profit Gains Reported by Some Firms

Cheery Words Subdue Fears of Slump in Other Economic Fields

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Some of the nation's leading business firms are pouring forth good news this week about profits. It helps take industrialists' and stock traders' minds off the summer slump and the dreaded profit margin squeeze from rising operating costs.

Profit gains are far from uniform for business as a whole. But they are being reported by some of the top companies in the oil, steel, chemical, aircraft and electronics industries, and by big retail and utility companies and most of the nation's banks.

Increased sales volume is reported by most of these — but some say profits went up even when output dipped, because they'd increased plant efficiency. Further underscoring the still dominant optimism of industry are reports from companies whose sales and earnings may be down but whose plans for expansion go right on piling up.

And for industry as a whole, the Federal Reserve Board notes that in June over-all industrial output remained at the same level as in April and May and topped the like month in 1956 by two percentage points.

Some of the reports of gains in net profit after taxes so far this year compared with last follow:

The nation's third and fourth largest steel makers report gains. Republic Steel officials say first six month profits will top those of a year ago. Jones & Laughlin says net income in the April, May and June increased over the first three months of the year by 7.3 per cent, although its production of steel fell off a bit. Officials credit increased efficiency with making the difference. Kaiser steel reports record sales and profits in the first six months of this year, with net income topping last year's figures by 27 per cent.

Jersey Standard Oil officials say both the six months and the second quarter earnings are better than a year ago. Net income for the industry's largest firm is up an estimated 15 per cent so far this year.

Du Pont, largest in the chemical industry, reports first half sales up 7 per cent and net income up 7.2 per cent over a year ago. General electric, largest in its field, in its first half statement shows its earnings running 13.2 per cent ahead of a year ago, despite the failure of a spring boost in sales of consumer durable goods (one of its chief divisions) to develop on schedule.

Detroit Edison reports gains in both income and revenue this year over last, and most other utility companies are expected to make like announcements in the days and weeks just ahead.

Most of the nation's banks show profit gains in the first six months of this year, the average being around 12 per cent over last year. These pleasant reports, however, are offset in some degree by a large number of companies whose earnings have been clipped by declining sales or rising costs. But the cheerful reports of the gainers brighten the summer scene.

Youngstown Youth Plunges to Death

YOUNGSTOWN (AP)—A 21-year-old Youngstown youth, ignoring "bridge closed" signs, started to walk across on a waterpipe at a downtown Youngstown bridge Tuesday, but fell to his death.

A Mahoning County bridge inspector said the youth, Adams Wardle, started from the north side of the bridge and walked some 200 feet on the waterpipe before losing his footing.

Wardle jumped for a wooden floor form two feet away but missed and plunged to the ground. He suffered a broken neck.

2 Fresh New TV Shows On

Henry Morgan, Stan Freberg on Sundays

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—On Sunday the French Republic celebrated Bastille Day and CBS Radio celebrated with two new and entertaining network programs. They are a panel quiz, "Sez Who?" (7 p.m., EDT) and "The Stan Freberg Show" (7:30 p.m.).

"Sez Who?" is blessed with Henry Morgan as moderator and a panel consisting of Gypsy Rose Lee, Joey Adams and John Henry Faulk. The panel listens to a recorded voice of someone either living or dead and then tries to guess who it is.

After all the elaborate gimmicks you see in TV quiz shows, it doesn't sound like much, does it? Well, it's so simple that it's refreshing for a change. Not that there seemed anything simple about identifying the voices heard on Sunday: Enrico Caruso singing "Over There" during World War I; Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig engaged in badinage that didn't mention baseball; Bobby Breen singing in the heyday of his boyhood popularity; and Marilyn Monroe singing. The panel identified all except Miss Monroe.

"Sez Who?" is not a great program, but it's a gay one.

Stan Freberg's feature on Sunday was a musical take-off on Las Vegas involving a booking war between Hotel El Sodom and Rancho Gomorrah. Among the features the managers obtained were an eight week run for the 1960 residential inauguration and the Suez Canal brought over in sections.

Or, as Freberg intoned, "A new Near East crisis was assembled in the Suez Room."

This department plans to be listening next Sunday when Freberg promises to interview the Abominable Snowman and give us the inside story on Paul Revere.

The examinations were given April 26 in Cleveland, Columbus, Dayton, Massillon and Toledo to 439 persons.

Purpose of the examination is to see competent workers are provided for municipal water and sewage plants, Dr. Dwork said.

Judge Approves Will's Aid to 'Poor Indians'

Montgomery County Probate Judge Rodney Love has ruled in favor of the government in a case involving Eggetz's estate.

Eggetz died in December of 1950, and his will provided that his entire $31,000 estate be held by the government and the interest used to help "indigent Indians."

Hospital Board Completes Its 1958 Budget

Trustees Say Figures
Show Definite Need
Of Expansion Program

Aside from approval of bills and a few minor routine matters, the entire regular session of the board of trustees of Fayette County Memorial Hospital, was taken up Tuesday night with a study of the institution's financial budget for 1958.

The budget is ready to be sent to the Fayette County Commissioners for their open hearing Thursday morning. It then goes to the Fayette County Budget Commission.

THE FACT that the budget figures show anticipated hospital business for the year 1958 to be well over the half million dollars mark ($520,000) is the reason, hospital officials say, that they have asked the county commissioners to bring before the public the $780,000 bond issue for expansion and new equipment at the coming November election.

The comparison of the estimated 1958 budget with the figures of former years' business at the institution, shows a steady increase each year in service and public demand, the trustees and administrator say.

For this year of 1957 the hospital's total business shows an increase of nearly 41 per cent over as short a period of time in the past as the year 1954. A still higher increase definitely is expected next year.

Discussion at Tuesday night's meeting of the hospital board indicated need for more space and more equipment if the hospital is to be able to carry on its service to do full justice to the community's requirements.

THE JUNE report presented by Miss Christine Evans, administrator, and approved by the board, showed a total of 337 patient admissions during the month besides the care for 57 new born infants. In addition there were 528 out-patients given attention, those not requiring room or board.

There was a total of 2,132 days of patient service given during June, with the greatest number for any one day in that period being 88, the lowest number for any one day being 51.

Major surgical operations performed at the institution in the month were 38, with minor operations numbering 106.

There were 873 X-ray films made for patients and 2,068 laboratory examinations; 8,912 meals were served and 32,681 pounds of laundry cared for in the hospital laundry.

Hoffa Contends Attorney 'Hired'

WASHINGTON (AP) — James R. Hoffa returns to the witness stand today to back up his story that he hired and paid John Coy Cheasty as a lawyer, not as a spy.

Hoffa, a Teamsters Union vice president is being tried on charges that he bribed Cheasty to get a job with the Senate Rackets Committee and feed its secrets to him.

Cheasty, the government's star witness in the case, already has testified he furnished Hoffa with information from committee files, but only after disclosing his identity and purpose to the committee and the FBI. He said he cooperated with both in events leading up to Hoffa's arrest.

asking permission for Cartwright to change his plea again, this time from guilty to not guilty.

The motion filed by Yazel for his client-in-prison bases the request on the allegation that Cartwright was "worried and frightened and did not properly understand the nature of his plea and rights" in the case.

Part of the Judge Case's decision relating to Attorney Yazel's handling of the case says:

"And, that, upon considering the fourth ground of said motion, the Court does find:
